DANIELS INSISTS
NAME WAS FORGED

Declares Sims Owes an Apology
To Himself and The Entire Country For Impressions
Given.

Proves That Message Quoted
By Sims Was Never Authorized or Sent by Daniels.

Asks That Sims Produce The Person Who Forged The Signature.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 13.—Charges that a cablegram produced before the Senate naval investigating committee during the testimony of Rear Admiral Sims bore a forged signature were made today by Secretary Daniels.

He referred to a message which Admiral Sims presented as part of his criticism of the Navy Department, and which purported to have been signed by the Secretary.

"Somewhere, somebody was guilty of signing my name to an official dispatch which the original here produced shows I never signed," Mr. Daniels told committee, "or of altering a dispatch by erasing the real signature and substituting 'Daniels.'"

The concluding paragraph of the cablegram read: "In regard to convoys, I consider that American vessels having armed guards are safer when sailing independently."

Daniels testified that immediately upon reading the Admiral's testimony he knew he never sent such a cablegram and started an investigation. He said he finally found the original dispatch in the British Embassy and that the name signed to it was "A. F. Carter, by direction of the Chief of Naval Operations."

"The statement that it was signed 'Daniels' is untrue," said the Secretary. "No such telegram signed 'Daniels' was ever sent to Admiral Sims. Sims should produce the person who changed the signature," Daniels declared, adding that the Admiral owed "an apology to me and to the country for the impression undertaken to be made by his testimony passed upon a false signature."

Indiana Republicans Insist
Wilson Alone Responsible For Failure of Ratification

Accept Treaty As Campaign
Issue—Want a World Court

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, May 13.—Charging responsibility to President Wilson for the delay in ratifying the peace treaty and welcoming it as an issue in the campaign, the resolutions committee of the republican state convention today submitted its report.

"It declared 'our absolute opposition to the covenant of the League of Nations as submitted by the President' and that 'we fully approve the action of the republicans of the Senate in resisting its adoption.'"

The report further put the republican party on record in favor of a "world court" to administer international justice and for the "judicial settlement of international disputes."

The present policy in Mexico was condemned as "insincere and prejudicial" to the interests of this country as well as those of Mexico.

Wanton extravagance during the past eight years was condemned and a pledge given to reduce federal taxes. It put the party on record as opposed to government ownership of railroads.

Will Insist Upon Decision Defining "Necessary Expenses" Of Court Judges.

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., May 13.—That the state supreme court may be called upon to explore and chart a hitherto unknown sea in the realm of expense accounts is the opinion of State Auditor Donahey as result of the suit brought by Appellate Judge Vickery, of Cleveland, to compel full payment of his expense account while holding court in Akron.

Donahey said today he would insist upon the court defining "necessary expenses" such as the law allows judges while holding court away from home.

NEW YORK, MAY 13.—(Associated Press)—Eugene V. Debs, federal convict No. 2253, was nominated by acclamation for the presidency of the United States at the Socialist party's national convention today.

Cheer upon cheer greeted the naming of the socialist leader now serving a ten-year sentence in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, for violation of the espionage act.

The convention today voted down by a good sized majority a renewed attempt of the Illinois delegation to inject into the party platform demand for a dictatorship of the proletariat with limitations of citizenship.

Report of Secret Meeting Puzzles Union Officials

(By Associated Press)

Pittsburg, May 13.—Despite reports that there would be a strike of engineers and firemen on the Pennsylvania, B. & O. and Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroads today, the railroads reported that only nine men had walked out and they were in Cleveland. It was stated the railroads were prepared to meet any situation which might develop.

The report was spread that the firemen and engineers would strike following a secret meeting today.

Brotherhoods of Firemen and Engineers officials stated they knew of no such meeting and today were investigating the origin of the strike report.

Six hundred shopmen of the P. & L. E. returned to work today at the important terminal of Dickerson Run, Pa., marking the most important break in the strikers' ranks in this district since the strike started a month ago.

(By Associated Press)

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 13.—Furious fighting between rebel troops and the forces commanded by President Carranza occurred yesterday at Hacienda Tamariz on the Mexican national railroad north of San Marcos, according to dispatches.

The area of the battlefield is said to be about five square miles. Wireless messages from Mexico City assert that Carranza is personally directing the operations of his troops.

Terrific storms have swept the mountain region where the struggle is going on and telegraphic communication has been interrupted.

Heavy rebel reinforcements have been sent to the scene and artillery is being rushed forward to force the surrender of the troops still loyal to the president.

General Aguilar who is held prisoner near Orizaba, is begging the rebel authorities for permission to join the president and share his fate.

American destroyer No. 292 and the transport Maumee arrived here today.

FORMING STEEL
RING AROUND
CARRANZA ARMY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 13.—Mexican rebel forces seem to be rapidly closing in on President Carranza and all that remains of his army, entrenched in the hilly country between San Marcos and Apizaco, 150 miles northwest of Vera Cruz.

The stage for the final act of the drama of the revolution is apparently being set and rebel leaders are evidently determined to capture the president.

General Trevino, one of the leading figures in the revolution, has gone to Apizaco for the purpose of protecting the life of Carranza in event he is made prisoner.

Governor de la Huerta of Sonora, who has been named supreme leader of the revolution, is preparing to go to Mexico City to take over control.

Dispatches from Vera Cruz state that rebel leaders are hoping it will be possible to hold the presidential election late in July, according to the provisions of Mexican law.

For this purpose, they desire appointment of a provisional president who will give assurances the election will be conducted fairly.

A Good Sign

Frequently now days we see, what to us are unmistakable, signs of a return to more normal conditions in the commercial world.

On Tuesday The Valley Camp Coal Company of Pennsylvania filed, in the United States court at Columbus, an action against The Sunday Creek Coal Company asking to be awarded a judgment for the sum of $300,000 which amount it claims is the proper financial measure for the damage it has sustained by failure of the Sunday Creek Coal Company to abide by the terms of its contract to deliver 2000,000 tons of coal at an agreed price per ton.

For many months now the commercial world, to a great extent, has been regarding contracts as "scraps of paper" if written, or mere idle talk, if verbal, and that tendency has unsettled business and given the conscienceless speculator his big opportunity to quit cold on his agreements and go gayly along on his career of holding up the public.

Now if the processes of the courts are not too tedious to compel either performance of contract or payment of damages for failure to live up to agreements, it will not be difficult to again establish, in American business the sanctity of contracts. When men cease to pocket their losses but insist on performance of contracts, we will have started on the journey back to settled conditions—back to an era when men can tell where they are going.

Promising Speeches

Representative Welty of Ohio, in a speech in the House of Congress on Tuesday, made a wise suggestion and a popular suggestion when he urged that a prison sentence be given to food profiteers instead of the officials contenting themselves with the imposition of a fine upon the guilty.

"Not a single person has been sent to prison except a few labor leaders," Mr. Welty stated, in his review of cases prosecuted under the Sherman law. And he is right about it too—absolutely correct. That's the regrettable feature of all our boasted law enforcement during the few troublesome months last passed.

Of course the first thought that comes, when we read Mr. Welty's really sound suggestions, is what office is he running for that he makes such a popular suggestion and is it to be followed up with action or he allowed to end with Mr. Welty's speech and bring only benefit to him as one of the numerous reform suggesters.

Mr. Welty urges the enactment of legislation by Congress which will make the suggested punishment available and, if that is not possible under the constitution, then an amendment of the constitution itself.

Of course easily ninety percent of the people agree with Mr. Welty, but they would feel more elated if they felt certain Mr. Welty was not just talking for popularity. We have had so many good suggestions made by our senators and representatives which have stopped suddenly with the suggestions that we refuse to become enthused with promising speeches.

Thanks For Senator McCumber

Senator McCumber of North Dakota has measured up to all requirements in all the long tedious wrangles in the United States Senate on the peace treaty and the league of nations pact. He has stood "four square" on all the big questions, passing time has proven, with the desires of the people. He has been one of the few senators able to rise above partisanship and follow the broad path of patriotic duty.

We have admired Senator McCumber's course a great deal during the last year because he has been so honest, so fearless, so true to duty, so free from bombast, he has been so clean and frank and with it all so logical and able.

Never have we admired Senator McCumber with his quiet dignity and strength more than when on Tuesday he announced to his fellow partisans that it would be a colossal blunder to make the President's individual and autocratic stand on the league of nations a political issue.

Calling attention to "debts piling mountain high, production dangerously decreasing, currency becoming more and more inflated, the yoke of taxation growing more galling, the prices of necessities of life advancing" the North Dakota senator pointed out the real issues of interest to the people.

"The war is not the cause of this," he stated correctly. When he said "the American people are the victims of the new system of purchasing political support by enacting purely class legislation" Senator McCumber pointed out the exact spot of infection.

It is refreshing and cheering to have one Senator McCumber in the Senate.

Out in the garden the lilacs say,
"Come out, come out with us in the sun."
And I list to them calling the live-long day,
But—there is so much work to be done
That I keep at the sweeping and making of beds,
And the cooking of "three meals a day."
While all of the time I am aching to be Out there in the heart of the May.

"Come out," say the lilacs, and toss me a cup
Of wonderful, maddening perfume.
Till I toss down my broom and my cooking forget,
And gaily rush out of the room—
Out there to the lilacs all purple and white,
With their faces turned up to the sun.
And I gather them lovingly close to my face,
And whisper, "I love you, each one."

"I love you, I love you, my lilacs to sweeten
And I love the dear days of the spring,
Which back from the country of winter and death
The wonderful blossom time bring!"
Oh, lilacs of purple and lilacs of white,
Wreathed around with your soft-tinted green,
Your scent is the key that unlocks in my heart
The room where sweet Memory is queen.

Once more down the path of an old garden close
I walk when the moon rises above,
And, oh, in the breath of the lilacs I hear
The words of an early-day love—
A love of the past when the whole world was young,
And faith was my life's guiding power.
Dear lilacs, I thank you for bringing that back,
E'en tho' it may stay but an hour.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

The young women of Mrs. Eva J. Penn's Sunday School class of Grace M. E. Church greatly enjoyed their monthly social session in the church basement Thursday night—the only shadow upon the affair the absence of their much appreciated teacher, who is recovering from a serious illness.

The fragrance of purple lilacs filled the room and their tasteful arrangement in an immense green jardiner drew admiring comments.

The evening's social features included a guessing contest, "Proverbs," in which the prize was won by Miss Edna Thompson and Miss Ruth Teeter.

Delicious refreshments were served by the evening's hostesses, Misses Anna Hempstead, Ellen Montgomery, Ruth Kelly, Della Williams, Mrs. W. R. Crisenbery.

The Kensington of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Grace M. E. Church Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors was a very pleasurable affair. Mesdames Dunn, Westerfield McClain, Duff, Fenner, Irons, Ginn Harper, Haver, Kelley, Henry Brownell and Herbert Brownell acting as hostesses.

There was a short program, a report of the meeting held in London, an entertaining reading given by Mrs. E. E. Ginn and two pretty piano selections by Miss Portia Brownell.

Lilacs were used in effective decoration, and dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Oscar Wike and Miss Mae Vincent joined the society.

Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters of Sunflower Lodge of Jeffersonville enjoyed a dance at their Hall, Wednesday evening, forty-five couples in attendance.

Mr. Lucius Carr at the piano, Mr. Marshall Ensign saxophone and Mr. Horney trap drums all of Jeffersonville furnished splendid music.

Light refreshments were served.

Messrs. Floyd Eichelberger, Will Del La Rue and Dr. A. Y. Whitehead composed the committee, who successfully managed the affair.

Miss Ola Eubanks had as her guests Wednesday evening Misses Ruth Sellman, Mable Sellman, Lola Leath, Orpha Richardson, Jane Severs, Mae Dowler, Gladys Brown, Messrs. Frank Smith, Steve Willis, Thomas Kinsling, and Joseph Merritt.

The occasion was Miss Eubanks' birthday and a very delightful evening in games and music was spent. Refreshments were served.

The Social Club was pleasurably entertained at the home of Mrs. Frances Barger on Clinton avenue, Wednesday afternoon.

There was a good attendance of members with one additional guest, Mrs. John Merriweather.

Mrs. Frank Roberts assisted Mrs. Barger in serving dainty refreshments.

Americanism will be the line feature of the fifteenth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Des Moines, June 16 to 23. Hundreds of women from all over the Hawkeye state will join in extending a hearty welcome to their fellow club women from sister states. The convention will be held in the Coliseum which has been the center of many national gatherings in the past. Chairman of the eleven departments of the General federation will each have conferences and exhibits. Club women will there receive messages calculated to aid them in their work. These are to be messages of such import that they must be carried back to clubs in every section. Reorganization of the working policy of the General federation is to be one of the problems worked out at the biennial session. A press luncheon will be one of the social functions of convention week. Spectacular speakers and greetings from newspaper men and women from all over the country will be heard at this luncheon. A pioneer's dinner is to be held the evening of June 19. It is to be in honor of those women who early caught the vision of service through the woman's club movement. All in all, the Des Moines convention, it is expected, will eclipse in attendance and surpass in enthusiastic endeavor and similar convention in the history of the organization.

Plans for the organization of a National club for all American women who worked overseas during the war, in any branch of the service, were discussed at the National Y. W. C. A. Convention held recently in Cleveland by the fifty or more returned war workers of that organization. No definite action was taken but the initiation of such a club under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. is probable. That the Y. W. C. A. must continue its international activities, started during the war, was the opinion voiced at the convention, which was attended by nearly 3,000 women and girls. A sum for the expansion of European work was voted into the National budget. War workers from Czechoslovakia, Russia, Siberia, Turkey, Poland, France and Belgium reported work of the Y. W. C. A. abroad which has taken permanent form.

The recent passing of Mrs. Humphrey Wray, literary artist and student of social problems, removed one of the worth while figures of the Mid-Victorian age. While interest in the momentous conflicts of her prime waned for many years, she witnessed in her sunset days its revival in her best works and the historical background they delineate.

"Robert Elsmere" will probably be regarded as Mrs. Ward's most important work, the other two best known "Marcella" and "The History of David Grieve."

Outside of her books, also, Mrs. Ward lived a full, abundant life. She loved human society and delighted in the friendship of worth-while people. Though a real power in the best political life of her country, she stoutly opposed woman suffrage, being, indeed, its most formidable opponent; but when finally her cause was defeated she accepted the will of the majority with the same dignity she had sustained it throughout the conflict. Her worth was too great not to be employed in the new order, and the Lord Chancellor appointed her to be one of the first woman Magistrates.

One of the most delightful of the year's Presbyterian Guild Kensingtons was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock, with the assisting hostesses Mesdames J. M. Willis, Wert Shoop, Amy Hudson, Frank Rothrock, Edgar Snyder.

The incessant rain did not prevent an exceptionally large attendance and the contrasting cheer of Mrs. Hitchcock's pretty home, with vases of violets effectively placed was an added spur to the sociability.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson and Mrs. Amy Hudson, with chorus singing a feature.

The hostesses served appetizing refreshments.

Mrs. W. J. Galvin, of Lima, was a guest.

The Thursday Euchre Club was indebted to Mrs. Calvin Holmes for charming hospitality Thursday afternoon.

Following the game with its pleasurable sociability, a delicious luncheon was served.

Miss Gladys Fenner, a member of the Senior Art Class at Ohio Wesleyan University has been honored and her decided talent recognized in a way highly gratifying to her many friends.

Annually the Art Class put on an Art Contest and this year Miss Fenner's design for a stained glass window to be placed in the University library was chosen and she was awarded the prize of twenty-five dollars.

The statement was made by Dr. Ned Dearborn, in a recent address before the second annual meeting of the American Society of Mammalogists at the American Museum of Natural History, that owning a fur coat may soon be in a class with finding an oil well or gold mine.

A coat purchased by a New Yorker in 1910, he said had a fur lining worth $500. A couple of years later the fur was sold for a $1,000 and the coat refined for $150. This second lining was sold for $250 and the coat refined again for $55 just before the war. This third lining was sold recently for $200 and the coat retired from active service.

Measures must be taken at once to conserve fur bearing animals, he said, or the supply would last only a few years. These animals do not thrive in captivity, but the beasts of the field soon learn there is sanctuary in areas where hunting is prohibited and flock there in large numbers, propagating rapidly under those free conditions. About the only really successful fox farms, he said, were those on ocean islands, where the small animals could be allowed to run loose.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brown (nee Ruth Miller) are announcing the birth of a daughter, named Helen Marie, at their home in Columbus, May the twelfth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ghormley, of near Greenfield were business visitors in this city Thursday.

Mrs. Jake Heilshimer, of Madison Mills, and Mrs. Robert Crow, of Cooks were visitors here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Putnam and Mrs. Belle Putnam, were shopping visitors from Frankfort here Thursday.

Mrs. W. J. Galvin, of Lima, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Josephine Kerr.

Mr. Calvin Holmes came in from Indiana, Wednesday night, having completed his annual spring trip for the P. Hagerty Shoe Co.

Mr. Maurice Williams and family are now located for the summer in Chillicothe, where Mr. Williams has been for some weeks engaged in superintending the erection of a handsome new bank building, J. S. Williams and son the contractors.

Mrs. L. E. Miller spent Wednesday in Columbus to attend a wedding.

Mr. H. Renick Buggs was a business visitor in Dayton Wednesday.

EVACUATION OF
MEXICAN CAPITAL

(By Associated Press)

Mexico City, via Dallas Texas, May 12.—The Carranza Government evacuated Mexico City Friday morning and the advanced forces of the revolutionists, led by General Pablo Gonzales, entered the capital that afternoon.

General Alvaro Obregon followed Sunday morning at the head of 10,000 troops. The occupation was effected with perfect order and there was no shooting in connection with the change in government.

Carranza government officials were forced to abandon the city when they learned, that 40,000 revolutionists troops were marching on the town. Less than 10,000 troops at the capital are reported to have remained loyal to the Carranza government.

SPEAKER GIVES COMMERCE PLAN TO LOCAL MEN

Speaking before a representative group of men at the regular session of the Dutch Treat Club Thursday noon, C. E. Jenks, of the American City Bureau, Chicago, laid before his audience the plans for forming a Chamber of Commerce in this city and substantiated his statements favoring such a movement with the accomplishments of over two hundred such other organizations in the country.

Mr. Jenks named four things as the first and fundamental reasons for the organization of a Chamber of Commerce. First, to train for citizenship through service; second, to act as a directing force and to help direct public thinking of the city; to find the proper work for each citizen in a community way; to unite all the forces of the community.

The Chamber of Commerce may be a directing force and a clearing house was the opinion of Mr. Jenks. The speaker stated that the Chamber of Commerce had the same mission as the fire tower in the forest district and served as the place from which a clear view may be obtained.

The speaker declared that his Commerce Bureau had been engaged in the work more than eight years and that chambers had been formed in countless cities of the United States from east to west and from north to south and that in every instance the organizations effected have proved successful.

George H. Hitchcock, Nolin Hathaway, J. H. Shepperd, Elmer Junk, Ed Fite and Willard Willis were named as a committee of six to talk over the feasibility of a Chamber of Commerce for this city and to report at the meeting of the Dutch Treat Club on Thursday of next week.

The burial was made in the Washington cemetery; the pallbearers, Messrs. George Perry, Jonathan Chaffin, Henry Dearth, Lemuel Minix.

The flowers were in abundance, including lovely sprays and pieces from the family and friends and also special designs from Stinson's Store, employees, B. & O. Freight Office, Red Men, and neighbors.

Defending the President, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the administration spokesman, declared the President in his telegram to Oregon Democrats had "simply declared his devotion to the league of nations and denounced the Lodge reservations."

LARGE AUDIENCE BEHOLDS METRO LOSE TO BOWSER

Wrestling to a finish for an attractive purse and the larger share of the gate receipts, Paul Bowser, of Newark and Charles Metro, of Seattle, Wash., went three falls at the Armory Wednesday evening before Bowser clamped the step-over toe hold on his opponent that forced him to give up and declare the Newark man winner.

It was only by circumstances that Metro won the first tumble in 29 minutes and 39 seconds with a half Nelson and a body scissors. The men were on the edge of the mat and Bowser's head overlapped the canvas so that he was not able to bridge against the weight of Metro and apparently he had relaxed while awaiting notification to go to the center of the mat.

Bowser evened things by flopping
Metro in jig time with a stretcher hold that brought the second fall in 22 minutes and 28 seconds.

Rough and unsportsmanlike tactics,
consisting of hair pulling and biting,
made the work of Metro unpopular with the fans and he stopped his work in several instances to yell at some particularly offensive Bowser rooster.

With the count one to one Bowser and Metro went to the ring for the final fall with even more action than was displayed in the two preceding falls. Bowser, scenting the weakness of Metro after applying a step-over tee-hold from which Metro escaped by crawling off the mat, again applied the same hold and forced Metro to give up in short order. Time of the fall seven minutes and 18 seconds.

Of special interest to the fans was the work of Referee Jack Smith who has proved a most capable official for the last two bouts. There was never a murmur of protest against his work.

A preliminary that went to one fall was staged for an opener. Leslie Per-erson, a local wrestler trained in the Y. M. C. A., opposed Billy Gallagher, of Newark, of about the same weight, for eight minutes and 50 seconds before he was toppled with a half-Nel-

CLINTONS EMERGE FOR 1920 SEASON

A few warm days have worked miracles with the baseball prospects of Clinton county and until recently dormant Wilmington Clintons have emerged from their winter quarters a little late but strong enough to state that the team is to be in a class envied by all surrounding cities. Just who the players are going to be has not been given out but the majority of them will be of the "imported" variety. The Wilmington News Journal tells about the team in the following manner:
"The fact that Wilmington is to have a baseball team is now assured and this announcement will come as a source of much interest and joy
among local fans."
"The Clintons are organized and

FISHER WINS PRIZE BY DRAFTING PLANK FOR NEW PLATFORM

Mr. E. P. Fisher, Superintendent of The Washington Water Co., who spends part of his time in this city and the remainder in London, Ohio, where he also superintends the water company, has received word from his son, Willis R. Fisher, of Princeton University, that he has won a $109 prize in the New York Tribune's contest for the ten best plank for a Republican Platform, his "plank" on "Capital and Labor" being selected from all others submitted and forming a part of the ten-plank platform accepted by a vote of thousands of readers.

Mr. Fisher is instructor of English in Princeton University, but spent much of his life in London, Ohio. During the war he was an officer in 9th Field Artillery. His "Capital and Labor" plank would, if adopted, largely solve the disastrous strike problem in America. It reads:

"We recognize as indispensable the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively but not to strike when such action violates the law or menaces public welfare. To protect the nation as a whole from injury by controversies which concern directly only a small minority, we pledge enactment of legislation to increase the accountability of both unions and employers, and to compel the arbitration of those disputes which affect the production and distribution of the necessities of life."

ATLANTIC FLEET RETURNS TO NEW YORK AFTER WINTER PRACTICE AT GUANTANAMO

Rear Admiral H. B. Wilson and U. S. S. Utah, one of the biggest dreadnaughts of the fleet. The ship was photographed at anchor in New York harbor. Note airplane circling above the ship.

The Atlantic fleet of the U. S. navy, which spent three months at target practice and maneuvers at Guantanamo, returned recently to New York harbor and anchored there for a stay of two weeks or more. Eight dreadnaughts and a number of cruisers and destroyers comprised the fleet. Rear Admiral H. B. Wilson commands the fleet.

D'ANNUNZIO'S COURT NOTABLE SAYS ATTACHE

(By Associated Press)

Flume—(By Mail)—"This is the most interesting court in Europe," said one of d'Annunzio's secretaries, the luncheon tendered the poet on St. Gabriel's Day, when the "liberator" of Flume acted his part with courtiers, soldiers and "king's guards" and the populace acted theirs.

Fanfares of trumpets, the rush to arms of the "king's guard" announced his every entrance and exit. He is always accompanied by a long line of aides and functionaries and wears a happy countenance himself. At meals all the courtiers center their attention upon him and listen to the stories he tells, laughing sometime and crying at others.

D'Annunzio's wishes in food are always complied with and religious zeal marks the efforts of the entourage to please him. His uniform is always spick-and-span. There is not a blemish on his clothing from heel to crown. His long Italian cape some times calls to mind the familiar garb of the fallen William II in his German military cape.

On public occasions in theaters, his place is reserved with much attention and when he enters cheers are given by the men and women who follow him. When he gives a concert in the palace, his place in the front row is respected with the reverence due to a religious chief. His apartments are bedecked with all sorts of presents from the townspeople. Italian and Dalmatian flags make up the color scheme. On his name day he was recipient of bowers of flowers from admirers in the city. The royal march greets him when he makes his appearance on the balcony of the palace.
